SDK Not to Renew Reaction Policy on Large-scale Share Purchases

Showa Denko (SDK) (TOKYO: 4004) has decided, at its Board of Directors' meeting today, not to renew its Reaction Policy on Large-scale Purchases of the Company's Stock Certificates (Takeover Defense) (hereinafter referred to as the "Reaction Policy"), which is due to expire at the close of its 108th ordinary general meeting of shareholders scheduled for March 30, 2017 (the "Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting"). SDK has also decided to propose a partial revision of its Articles of Incorporation to the Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting.

1. Non-renewal of Takeover Defense

For the purpose of securing and enhancing the Company's corporate value and the common interests of its shareholders, the Company believes that, although proposals regarding the large-scale purchases of the Company's shares are made by specific persons, the decision whether to sell the Company's shares in response to such a proposal shall eventually be made based on the opinion of the shareholders which is reached after being given the sufficient information necessary for making an appropriate decision and sufficient time of consideration.

Based on this basic policy and as its efforts to prevent inappropriate persons from controlling the Company's financial and business policy decisions, the Company introduced the Reaction Policy at the 99th ordinary general meeting of shareholders held on March 28, 2008 after with the approval of the shareholders. After that, the renewal of the Reaction Policy was approved at the 102nd ordinary general meeting of shareholders on March 30, 2011 and the 105th ordinary general meeting of shareholders on March 27, 2014 (the renewed and revised Reaction Policy is hereinafter referred to as the "Current Reaction Policy"). The Current Reaction Policy is valid until the close of the Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting.

Meanwhile, Japan's Corporate Governance Code calls for a structure for transparent, fair, timely and decisive decision-making by companies and cooperation with shareholders and other stakeholders to increase corporate value over the mid- to long-term. The code also provides that all listed companies should ensure appropriate information disclosure and promote a constructive dialogue with shareholders.

The Company has carefully studied the changes in social environment following the application of the Corporate Governance Code and other factors as well as their influence. As a result, the Company has decided not to renew the Current Reaction Policy at the close of the Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting.

The Company will continue its efforts to enhance the Company's corporate value and the common interests of its shareholders. With regard to persons who intend to make large-scale purchases of the Company's stock certificates, the Company will ask them to provide sufficient information necessary for the shareholders in making an appropriate decision regarding the propriety of such large-scale purchases. At the same time, the Company will disclose the opinion of its Board of Directors, secure sufficient time for consideration by shareholders, and take other steps within the framework of relevant laws, including the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and the Companies Act.

2. Partial revision of Articles of Incorporation

(1) Purpose

As we have decided not to renew the Current Reaction Policy at the expiration of the term, we will delete Article 18 of our Articles of Incorporation and move up Article 19 and the following articles.
